

Naples 13th June 2022 Annual Meeting and PhD Award

Description

In agreement with the IEEE ITSS mission and vision, the main objectives of the Italian Chapter are the creation of a collaborative environment allowing the establishment or reinforcement of cooperation among members, the involvement of young students and researchers, and the communication of the main activities and innovative results to the stakeholders in the field of intelligent transportation systems (public institutions, private companies, associations).

To this aim, the Chapter is promoting the event.

Roberto SARACCO – short bio

Roberto Saracco fell in love with technology and its implications long time ago. His background is in math and computer science. Until April 2017 he led the EIT Digital Italian Node and then was head of the Industrial Doctoral School of EIT Digital up to September 2018. Previously, up to December 2011 he was the Director of the Telecom Italia Future Centre in Venice, looking at the interplay of technology evolution, economics and society. At the turn of the century he led a World Bank-Infodev project to stimulate entrepreneurship in Latin America. He teaches a Master course on Technology Forecasting and Market impact at the University of Trento. He is a senior member of IEEE where he leads l'Industry Advisory Board within the scope of Future Directions Committee and co-chairs the Digital Reality and Digital Transformation Initiative. He is a member of the IEEE in 2050 Ad Hoc Committee. In 2022 he leads the New Initiative Committee. He has published over 200 papers in journals and magazines and 30 books/e-books.

He keeps a daily blog <https://cmte.ieee.org/futuredirections/category/blog/>, commenting on the evolution of technology and the impact on society and the market in various sectors.
